

Respect us Respect our work

We showed management that we are the team that cares for our patients to make Auburn great. Together with our nurse co-workers we showed our unity and solidarity and sent a powerful message: It's time for Multicare to respect our work and respect us. Management heard us and moved on their wage proposals. We made some progress, but Multicare needs to do more to help us recruit and retain staff. Without the right staff we can't provide the care our hospital is known for.

Management's proposal has raised questions about how their wages will impact our hospital and our ability to attract and keep great caregivers. We need more information when it comes to healthcare changes, job vacancy/staffing, and PTO donations procedures. We deserve better, we need to continue to show our unity.

Tiona Tupou, PAT

"I am proud of my co-workers and both our unions' unity. We showed our solidarity across the hospital. It's beautiful seeing all the green and white stickers on everyone! Let's stay united and hold management accountable at the table!"

needs to approve the use of PTO time that our co-workers gave us."

Caroline Bellinger, LPN, Gero

"This fight is not about just today, it's about tomorrow and our future colleagues. We need to show them that they can trust us and that we are working on getting management to do the right thing!"

Richmond Buerty, PCU (third from left)

Next Steps

Talk to your BT members and CAT team members about our next steps to show our unity.

Our bargaining team:

Joel Lebon, FNS/MedSurg
 Seina Covello, MedSurg
 Nick Gomez Nagrini, Nursing Resource
 Brandy Carnel, FNS
 Caroline Bellinger, Gero Pshyc
 Helen Gearhard, ER
 Richmond Buertey, PCU
 Raymond Fugate, ER
 Riza Caluza, Gero Psych
 Jon Meyer, Sterile Processing
 Angie Wickizer, Distribution
 Viola McGill, EVs
 Perry Johnson, EVS
 Tiona Tupou, Access

Our next bargaining session on 10/9 and 10/19

SEIUHealthcare®
 United for Quality Care