Standing United in the Face of Mergers

On April 17th, CPC management accounted that CPC will be merging with Sound. It wasn't a secret that CPC was shopping around for partners to merge with. That's why we ratified a contract which gave us stronger successorship language and a voice in the event of a merger. But we know our voice only matters if we use it.

Come to a member meeting to discuss any concerns and make your voice heard:

"We settled a contract which locked in wage increases, added everyone to the wage scale and gave us a voice in the event of a merger. Now we need to use that voice to ensure our clients remain housed and connected to services. We also need make sure that our jobs and union remain secure. Come to a meeting to make your voice heard"

Bethany Simpson,
Cascade Hall Residential Counselor

"We ae our Union and we are planning on making sure we have a voice during this transition. Come to a meeting to ask question and hear about next steps."
