

Showing Our Unity and Voting YES!

We overwhelmingly voted YES for our proposals!

Our elected bargaining team has been coming together to draft our proposals driven from Joint Labor Management meetings and our bargaining surveys. We've created key proposals that best reflect what we need at Island Hospital to continue to serve our patients and community. A majority of our coworkers voted, and our vote passed by an overwhelming majority!

Our first day of bargaining is January 21, 2022. Stay informed through updates from the bargaining and contract action team members in your department.

Key proposals:

- Fair wages that keep up with the rising cost of living in the Western Washington
- Medical benefits that take care of our families, not just ourselves
- A multi-employer training fund to help us go back to school
- Assurance that our jobs are protected in these changing times
- Safe staffing that puts patients first

It's Time to Act:

The Campaign for a Safe Staffing Law in Washington State Is Here

Our union is partnering with UFCW21 and WSNA in a statewide campaign to win a legislative proposal that will ensure safe staffing standards so we can care for patients safely, recruit new people into our industry and create sustainable and resilient healthcare systems for our communities.

We will be introducing this legislative proposal to elected officials in the coming months.

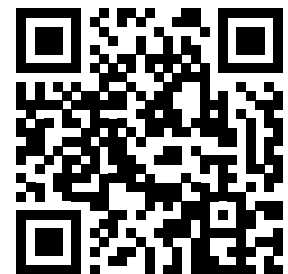

For more information about this campaign, go to WASafeAndHealthy.com

Ahead of the legislative session, we're sharing our stories with legislators in our districts asking for their support of our proposal.

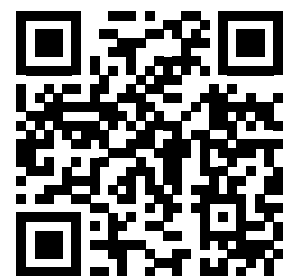

Join us in calling on our state Legislature to require hospital executives to set and follow safe staffing standards for the health and safety of everyone in Washington!
