Join us at our Bargaining Proposal Votes!

We are united across our Kirkland and Monroe campuses for our upcoming bargaining, calling on management to respect us and pay us what we're worth. Together we have taken action by filling out surveys and nominating our coworkers to ensure we have a diverse group of voices on our bargaining team to guide the bargaining process. Our committed group of bargaining team coworkers are pouring energy and hard work to win a fair contract that everyone will benefit from.

These leaders will ensure we maintain unity throughout the bargaining process and will help provide a crucial link between what's happening in negotiations and how to get involved in the process to ensure we win a great contract.

Now is the time to make your voice heard

Now that our nominated team has walked through our bargaining priorities, we must vote and approve our priorities for the next contract. Together we fight to raise our wages to support our families, advocate for the staffing we need, and build a hospital where everyone belongs and we stand strong in our union. Let's get ready to vote and show our strength before the first negotiation meeting with management.

“Voting on proposals is our opportunity to build a better working environment and have our voices heard. Our work is important. This is our chance to implement changes that not only help us and our coworkers but our patients and the public as well.” - Danielle Bergeron
Answering Services

“This is our opportunity to secure a strong contract. We are fighting for significant across-the-board wage hikes so we can provide for families. We are fighting for real solutions to address the chronic understaffing problems at this hospital. We are fighting for improvements in equity and respect at work. Vote on our priorities to make your voice heard so that we gain the strongest improvements we can win.” – Burr Corley, Clinic Care Manager
