

Our union is growing and we're building unity together

On May 11, the Social Workers from Cancer Support Services joined together with representatives from the Service and Social Worker/Chaplain bargaining units to deliver their notice to management that they intend to join our union! Welcome our new union siblings. Show them the love, support and unity they need as they join us!

"We felt well-supported by the presence of other union members that morning. It feels important to all have the same protections in place in today's workplace environment. We support our unions in healthcare and are excited about joining our unionized colleagues!"
- Sara Bassetti, Social Worker, Cancer Support Services

Solidarity Update from EvergreenHealth Monroe

At the end of March, we won the best contract we have ever seen here at Evergreen Kirkland. In addition to dramatic increases in our wages and shift differentials, we are seeing improvements to our union rights and workplace standards. The same cannot be said for Evergreen Monroe.

Over 9 months of bargaining with management have gone by and our colleagues in Monroe are still without a new contract. Management has very large takeaways still on the table that would compromise their ability to maintain their strong healthcare and have a voice in our two hospitals.

That is why the elected bargaining team at Evergreen Monroe has called for an informational picket. We must stand shoulder-to-shoulder with our union siblings from Monroe to show Evergreen management that no matter what city we're in, we are strong, and we are united!

Join the picket on Wednesday, May 24 from 3-6pm! There is also a rally starting at 5 pm on the public sidewalk just outside the Monroe campus.

"Hi I'm Hannah! I'm a Diet Aide at Monroe. In the past 9 months, we at EvergreenHealth Monroe have been fighting management to get rights and wages for everyone in the hospital. Getting the raise, healthcare, and benefits to everyone in these times with inflation would be beneficial, especially for people with different circumstances in their families. Management has made bargaining very difficult for us and have been delaying what the problem is in front of their face. We won't let management take away our rights and quality healthcare.

If workers from Kirkland came out to the picket and showed support, that would be amazing and would show a sign of unity—two different locations with one heart. Unity from both hospitals would be a sign of power and community to show we support each other."

- Hannah Park, Diet Aide, Evergreen Monroe
